THIRTY-SECOND CONGRESS. FIRST SESSION.

House of Representatives.

WASHINGTON, May 1, 1862. BILL FOR THE RELIEF, OF QUARTER MASTER CROSS. The House took up the bill for the relief of Osborn Cro This gentleman is a quartermaster in the army, and in 1842 he was robbed of $6,000, in treasury notes. About half of this amount was subsequently recovered from the thieres. The bill authorizes the Secretary of the Treasu-ry to credit him with the full amount. The debate involved the quastion whether the quartermaster used due diligence and prudence to protect the funds. The bill was passed.

The House twice refused to go into committee on the Homestead Bill.

Mr. Jourston. (dem.) of Arkansas, moved that the House adjours, which was negatived by yeas 57, naya-90; and then, by a large majertry, without taking the yeas and nays, the body adjourned.

on Monday, and to take effect on Wednesday next.

In executive session yesterday, it was understood that two important nominations were under consideration.
Previous to the adjournment of the Senate yesterday,
Mr. Atchison gave notice that he should on Monday move to go into executive session as soon as the morning session shall have expired, it being very important to the eithems of lown. Wisconsin and Minnesota, that certain treaties before the Senate should be acted upon immediately.

The South Carolina Covention.

CHARLESTON, April 20, 1852. The Select Committee of the South Carolina Convention have made a lengthy report, re-affirming the rights of secession, but declaring it inexpedient, at the present time, to exercise that right.

There was also a minority report submitted, but nothing more will be done with it, as the convention is trammeled by the submission of the question to a vote of the people in October next. The report was to be considered, and that of the major ity will doubtless be adopted.

Congressional Apportionment of Pennsylvania.

Hannaurre May 1 1250 The Governor has signed the bill apportioning the State for the election of representatives in Congress, as reported by the Committee of Conference of the two Houses; and also the joint resolution passed to-day, amendatory of the same, so far as relates to the Fifteeenth and Twenty-fourth districts.
